

Against the Grain

Safe grain storage and handling practices for beginning workers

If you are joining the GRAIN INDUSTRY

This training is for you

This is a three hour safety training class including lunch, on grain handling safety and confined spaces. This class might be of interest to any student or young professional considering employment in the grain industry. In addition to lunch, a hard hat and certificate will be given (certificate on safety training is a major plus for any resume). The class will also help you to become more familiar with OSHA compliance issues in agribusiness. Other agricultural confined spaces such as silos and manure storage will also be covered.

Two workshop dates will be offered this spring free of charge

Date: Thursday March 10th

Date: Friday April 1st

Time: 12:00 PM – 4:00 PM

Time: 9:00 AM – 1:00 PM

Registration Deadline: March 8th

Registration Deadline: March 29th

Location : Purdue University ADM (698 Ahlers Dr, West Lafayette, IN 47906)

Register using this link

<http://goo.gl/forms/Gc0Elj4Bxu>

Or contact Salah Issa at issa0@purdue.edu for more information

Free Hard Hat

Free Lunch

Free Certificate

Cost: $0